The letter will be mailed to the US address on your stipend checks. Students who have not received the letter by February 1st should contact Financial Service Center, 7 New South, finance@princeton.edu 609-258-3080. More info: <http://finance.princeton.edu/how-to/tax-compliance/students-groups-foreign/scholarships-fellowships>

Health Insurance

Because laboratories have some risks associated with them, we feel it is very important for all summer program participants to have medical coverage for the entire duration of the program. For this reason, we ask that you bring in your health insurance card on the first day so that we can make a copy for our records or email it to us before you arrive.

Travel Itinerary

Please plan to arrive on campus no later than Sunday, June 2nd and to depart campus by noon on Sunday, August 4th. Housing check-in opens Sunday, June 2nd from 12:00 pm – 4:00 pm at Conference & Event Services at 71 University Place. Please proceed to Public Safety if no one is available in Conference Services on June 2nd. Campus housing will not be available before noon on Sunday, June 2nd or after noon on Monday, June 5st. After 4pm, Conference Services will take all the keys to Public Safety, located at 200 Elm Drive. There are metered parking spaces on University Place. Please note: Overnight parking is prohibited on all Princeton Streets.

Travel Directions

Getting to Princeton

Princeton University is located in Princeton, New Jersey, approximately 50 miles southwest of New York City and 45 miles northeast of Philadelphia. The University is accessible by train, which runs along the Northeast Corridor (NEC) line. Both Amtrak and New Jersey Transit trains stop at Princeton Junction, and the south end of campus (Princeton) is a five minute connecting train ride away.

The two closest and most easily accessed airports are:

Newark Liberty International Airport (EWR) - Located 40 miles north of Princeton in Newark, NJ. This is the best airport choice for travel to Princeton University. You can travel between Newark Airport and Princeton using the Olympic/State Airport Shuttle Bus or NJ Transit trains.

Philadelphia International Airport (PHL) - Located 55 miles south of Princeton in Philadelphia, PA. This is the distant second-best choice. You can travel between Philadelphia Airport and Princeton using NJ Transit and SEPTA trains or the Olympic Airport Shuttle Bus (shuttle is very expensive - $150 each way).

There is also a smaller Trenton/Mercer airport located about 20 minutes from campus (Frontier airlines).

The two large airports in New York City (east of Manhattan) take substantially more time to reach by car or public transportation from Princeton. They are: John F. Kennedy International Airport (JFK). LaGuardia International Airport (LGA).

NJT Train Directions from Newark Airport

You can travel between Newark Airport (EWR) and Princeton using New Jersey Transit trains. Train travel from Newark Airport to Princeton University involves the airport monorail (AirTrain) and two New Jersey Transit (NJT) trains. Travel time is about 1.5 hours.

Synopsis:

- Arriving Airline Passengers: After claiming your baggage at Newark Airport, follow signs within the terminal to AirTrain.
- Purchase your ticket before boarding the train. NJ Transit ticket machines are located at the entrance to AirTrain stations in each airline terminal and at the Ground Transportation Center in Terminal C. Purchase an adult one-way ticket from Newark Airport to Princeton ($18). NJ Transit will charge an extra $5 for onboard ticket purchase and will only take cash.
- Your train ticket will be used for your entire trip to Princeton University since it covers the AirTrain portion of your ride as well as both NJ Transit portions. You will use the ticket more than once: to pass through the AirTrain turnstiles at Newark Liberty International Airport Train Station and to show the conductors on the NJ Transit train(s).
- Take the monorail "AirTrain" from the airport terminal to the Newark Liberty International Airport Train Station (10 – 15 minute ride). The AirTrain arrives and departs every three minutes from 5 a.m. to midnight and approximately every 15 minutes between midnight and 5 a.m. Please see AirTrain link for details. (<http://www.panynj.gov/airports/pdf/ewr-airtrain-brochure-english.pdf>)
- When you exit AirTrain at the train station, follow signs to NJ Transit trains. You will go up one level, pass through the fare gates and go down one level onto the NJ Transit train platforms. It takes approximately five minutes to get from AirTrain to the NJ Transit platforms.

- Take New Jersey Transit Northeast Corridor train to Princeton Junction (~50-minute ride). Once on the NJ Transit platform, take the Northeast Corridor Trenton-bound train to Princeton Junction. Make sure you get on the Trenton-bound train and not the New York-bound train. Exit the train at Princeton Junction stop.
- At Princeton Junction, take the New Jersey Transit “Dinky” Train to Princeton (5-minute ride). The Dinky is a short train that runs between the Princeton Junction train station and the Princeton campus/town station. At Princeton Junction, walk to the back end of the platform towards a waiting room that looks like a small house. The Dinky platform is on the other side of the waiting room house.
- You will exit the Dinky at the Princeton station. Wawa is in front of the Dinky/Princeton train stop and Forbes College is directly across the street from the Princeton train station.
- The last Dinky leaves Princeton Junction at 12:30 am on the weekends. You will need to take a cab if you arrive at Princeton Junction after the last Dinky.

- Travel TIP: NJT trains that stop at the airport are designated with an airplane or "EWR" on departure boards and schedules.

Airport Shuttle Bus from Newark Airport

Although the train is a good option, there is also a shared-ride airport shuttle bus you can take from Newark Airport to the Princeton campus. It is more expensive than the train and ride time varies depending on traffic and number of stops. However, it probably involves less struggling with luggage. The Olympic Airporter/State Shuttle drops off at Baker Rink on Princeton’s campus.

To make a reservation you can call the State/Olympic Airporter office @ 800-822-9797 or make a reservation online: <http://olympic-limo.com/>

- Airport shuttle one-way cost is $57. This price excludes gratuity and luggage charges.
- Click the Princeton U. black and orange icon on the right to get the Princeton University discount.
- Click on Arrivals – ONEWAY (Roundtrip prices are no cheaper than one-way prices. You can make your return reservation in July/August if you want to use the shuttle service for your return travel.)
- Choose Newark Airport from the dropdown box under START HERE
- Fill in your flight details
- Under Dropoff Location please choose Baker Rink – Princeton University for the second box labeled Princeton-EWR-JFK-Shuttle
- Enter passenger and luggage info
- Choose “Princeton Shuttle service for 1 passengers”
- Select pickup time – go with suggested

- Enter name, flight and payment details
- Reservations must be made at least 24 hours in advance of your arrival.
- Your flight info, departure time and a credit card are needed to make a reservation.
- Although the shuttle company offers service from JFK, LGA and PHL, it is extremely expensive ($200+) and is not reimbursable.
- See directions below for walking from Baker Rink to housing.

Train Directions from Philadelphia Airport

Train travel from Philadelphia Airport (PHL) requires four transfers using SEPTA and New Jersey Transit trains. Travel time is 2 - 2.5 hours.

Synopsis:

- After claiming your luggage at Philadelphia Airport, follow signs to SEPTA. (SEPTA = Southeastern Pennsylvania Transportation Authority, <http://www.septa.org>, 215-580-7800.) The SEPTA rail stations are located on the ground level of Philadelphia International Airport, between each terminal's baggage claim area and ticketing counter.
- From Philadelphia Airport, take the SEPTA Airport Line train to Philadelphia 30th Street Station. (~25-minute ride). You will need to purchase your ticket on the SEPTA train (cash only). Purchase an adult one-way or round-trip SEPTA ticket from Philadelphia Airport to the Trenton Transit Center. This ticket will cover travel on both SEPTA trains.
- Change at Philadelphia 30th Street Station for the SEPTA Trenton Line train to the Trenton Transit Center Station (not West Trenton) in New Jersey (~50 minute ride).
- At the Trenton Transit Center Station, purchase a one-way or round-trip ticket from Trenton to Princeton from the New Jersey Transit ticket counter or machines (cash/debit/credit). NJ Transit will charge an extra $5 for onboard ticket purchase and will only take cash.
- At the Trenton Transit Center Station, take the NJ Transit Northeast Corridor New York-bound train to Princeton Junction (15 minute ride). Check the NJT website for complete schedule.
- Change at Princeton Junction to the "Dinky" shuttle train to Princeton (5 minute ride). The Dinky is a short train located across the station near a waiting room that looks like a small house. It runs between the Princeton Junction train station and the Princeton town/campus station.
- You will exit the Dinky at the Princeton station. See directions below for walking from Princeton Station to housing.

Train Directions from New York Penn Station

Follow signs for New Jersey Transit (NJT). I find it is best to avoid the special separate NJT waiting area since it can get extremely congested. Accessing the tracks and boarding can be crowded and slow. Go to the main concourse "Amtrak" section of Penn Station – where the big departure board is. The tracks are located down the escalators/stairs one level down. Penn Station map and additional info: <http://jasongibbs.com/pennstation/>

- Purchase your ticket before boarding the train. You can purchase your ticket from the NJT ticket window or from a NJ Transit ticket machine located throughout New York Penn Station. Purchase an adult one-way ticket for $16.50 from NY Penn to Princeton. If you purchase onboard, it is cash only and there is a $5 surcharge.
- Watch the board for track info for New Jersey Transit Northeast Corridor (NEC) Trenton-bound train. Take escalator to lower level to access track.
- Take the Northeast Corridor Trenton-bound train to Princeton Junction (~60 minute ride). Make sure you get on the Trenton-bound train.
- At Princeton Junction, take the New Jersey Transit "Dinky" Train to Princeton (5 minute ride). The Dinky is a short train that runs between the Princeton Junction train station and the Princeton campus/town station. At Princeton Junction, walk to the back end of the platform towards a waiting room that looks like a small house. The Dinky platform is on the other side of the waiting room house.
- You will exit the Dinky at the Princeton station. See directions below for walking from Princeton Station to housing.

NJT Train Directions from Newark Penn Station

Before boarding you will need to purchase a ticket. You can purchase your ticket from the ticket window or from a NJ Transit ticket machine located on the train platforms in Newark Penn Station. Purchase an adult one-way ticket from Newark Penn to Princeton for $8 - 13. (Machines/windows take cash, credit, and debit cards.)

Take the Northeast Corridor Trenton-bound train to Princeton Junction (about an hour ride). Change at Princeton Junction for the connecting "Dinky" shuttle train to Princeton (five minute ride). The Dinky is a short train located across the end of the train platform near a waiting room that looks like a small house. It runs between the Princeton Junction train station and the Princeton town/campus station. You will exit the Dinky at the Princeton station. Walking from Princeton Station to housing, Forbes College- 115 Alexander is directly across the street from the Princeton Station. No need for additional transportation.

Amtrak

Please feel free to check out Amtrak for your travel to/from Princeton. There are Amtrak trains commutable to the Princeton campus. The accessible stations where Amtrak stops are:

Princeton Junction - 5 minutes away from campus using the "Dinky" NJT train.

Trenton - 30 minutes away using the "Dinky" and NJT Northeast Corridor train.

Newark Penn Station and New York Penn Station - are both about an hour away from campus using the NJT Northeast Corridor Trenton-bound train and the "Dinky" train.

The last NJT "Dinky" train departs Princeton Junction at 12:31 am. If you get to Princeton Junction late and miss the last Dinky train to campus, you can take a taxi or uber. Cabs are usually waiting in the front parking lot at the Princeton Junction train station. However, if you do not see any you can call uber or one of the cab companies below and tell them that you need to be picked up at the Princeton Junction train station and taken to Princeton University. Make sure to verify the cost for the trip before getting into the cab. Taxi fare from Princeton Junction to Princeton campus is approximately $25 and the ride is about 15 minutes long.

What Clothes to Pack and New Jersey Weather

NJ summers can be very hot and humid, so be sure to pack student-casual, light clothing. It is very casual at Princeton. Folks live in jeans, shorts and t-shirts. There will be a summer program cookout at the end of the first week of the summer and we ask that you bring a shirt/hat with your University's name/logo. Please bring comfortable closed-toe shoes for the lab. Sometimes the air-conditioning in the labs makes them a bit chilly so a light jacket or sweater could also come in handy. June can also be rainy so bring an umbrella. Lastly, please feel free to bring one business-casual ensemble for the Leadership Alliance National Symposium and the end of summer PNI poster session. Comfortable shoes are a must for everyday wear and for the poster session. You have access to free laundry machines in Forbes so pack light. It will make your travel much easier. If you forget anything, there is always Amazon and there are malls nearby. Princeton weather website:
